FEBRUARY 2016

HOUSTON CONGREGATION FOR REFORM JUDAISM

The Sacred Art of Remembering

On New Year's Day, our family spent part of the afternoon watching old family videos. We started with videos of our annual summer road trips and then explored a number of birthday parties. Part of the fun was watching how each of us has changed over time (that is, everyone but me as I am always behind the camera). The other shared joy was reminiscing and recounting memories associated with each of these events. It's amazing how many additional family stories can be discovered when we take the time to remember them.

So, too, it is with the collective memories of a congregation. Over the course of nearly sixty years, our community has shared countless memories around holidays, lifecycle events, social programs and more. With multiple rabbis, strong personalities, challenges in temple politics and shifting trends in liturgical music, Houston Congregation for Reform Judaism has become a treasure trove of stories and memories which are begging to be shared.

Our Director of Music, Dr. Jane Becker, is the longest continuously employed member of our professional staff and, as such, she bears witness to countless tales from the pulpit to the pews. For thirty years, Jane has had the joy and the challenge of shaping the musical elements of our worship experiences under the vision of four different rabbis, dozens of boards and countless critics. On Friday night April 8, we will be honoring Jane for her years of devotion to our community with a special Shabbat service and oneg, and a significant part of this special evening will focus on thirty years of memories.

Coupled with this Sabbath trip-down-memory-lane will be a celebration of our ten years together at HCRJ. This event will take place on Thursday night, April 7. This evening of fine food and music promises to be an event to remember as we reflect on a decade of my leadership (and roast me, too).

Please save April 7 and 8 on your calendars. Each event invites us to find joy and laughter in the sacred act of remembering.

A beautiful magnolia tree has been planted in front of our building on Bering Drive in memory of Shawn Hurwitz. In the spirit of Tu B'Shvat, we encourage everyone to see this healthy sapling.

The tree was gifted to HCRJ by Leslie and Sid Weiss with the hope that through the years it will bless our congregation and all who pass by with beauty and majesty. May the memory of Shawn Hurwitz ever remain a blessing to all who were privileged to have been graced by his presence.

Summer Fun at Greene Family Camp

Many of us are in the process of making summer plans. Some have children and grandchildren who are of age to go to camp. Others may know someone with children who are of campership age.

If you are considering a Jewish camp experience, please consider Greene Family Camp. Studies have shown that residential camps like Greene are instrumental in the formation of a child's Jewish identity. With a wonderful balance between education and recreation, the Greene Family Camp is one of our nation's premier Jewish summer camp experiences.

Registration is simple. If you went to camp last summer, log-in to your account to reregister. If you were not at camp last summer, registration is a breeze. Just go to the Greene Family Camp website at <http://greene.urjcamp.org/register/> and complete the online application.

SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

Do not allow tight finances to prevent you from sending your child to camp this summer. Greene Family Camp has financial aid programs available. Interested families may go to the "Parents" section of the Greene Family Camp website to look at and download information and applications at www.greene.urjcamp.org

The Jewish Federation of Greater Houston gives first-time overnight campers up to $1,000 toward camp through One Happy Camper. Your child will discover who they are - and who they want to become - while having a total blast. Visit onehappycamper.org to apply. Need based-scholarships are also available through the Jewish Federation of Houston. Questions? Contact the Education Department at 713-729-7000, extension 309.

JCRS Scholarships

Jewish sleep away camp allows children to enjoy new social and learning experiences in a special environment that nurtures Jewish identity. At the Jewish Children's Regional Service (JCRS) we recognize the value of Jewish sleep away camp as a unique opportunity for fun, personal growth and Jewish identity-building. The JCRS would like all interested children to have this opportunity but we recognize that for many families the high cost of overnight camp is prohibitive. Last year, the JCRS provided partial scholarship funding for over 300 children to attend Jewish camp. The amount of these scholarships varies in accordance with the circumstances of the child and family. To apply visit www.jcrs.org/services/camp-scholarship-aid/

HCRJ Scholarships

HCRJ also has scholarships available for families looking to send their children to camp. For more information, please contact Hilary Kamin at 713-782-4162 or hilaryk@hcrj.org.
